

cybernetra

(Cybernetra Internet Management System)

How to change your password

Login to Internet using cybernetra (cybernetra Internet management system) client utility residing in the task tray.

Open <http://yourservername/password> in Internet Explorer.

Enter your username, existing password, new password and retype new password in confirm password field of password changing form. Now click ok button. If you get the response "Your password has been changed successfully", Congrats you have successfully changed your password.

In case you forgot your password. You can contact network administrator or concerned authority for getting your password changed.

How to check your Internet usage

After logging on to Internet you can goto <http://yourservername/info> link to check your current and total Internet usage.